Services contract

4. In the event that the customer will permanently cancel the date of marriage certificate, none of the fees paid will be refunded and the customer is obliged to pay the full amount of the contract entered into as the fees and amounts there is an application for marriage is not refunded from AFL in accordance with the Danish Marriage Act (Ægteskabsloven) § 13, LBK no. 1052 of November 12, 2012, and that the work and services provided to the customer are exclusively to the customer.
5. In the event of changes, cancellations, new laws, or modifications to the date of the marriage certificate previously determined by the AFL, the customer is obliged to pay the full amount in accordance with the contract entered between the first party and the customer, considered valid and the customer will not be compensated with any fees
6. The first party is considered a mediator who performs all his tasks by receiving documents, coordinating, and checking them, submitting the request, and following it up until the date of marriage certificate is reserved. These services are provided independently, and the fees paid by the customer are not contingent upon the successful issuance of the marriage certificate.
7. The period for processing the application is calculated from the date of receipt of copies of the necessary documents and documents in addition to receiving the first payment in our account.
8. The customer undertakes to pay the full fees and provide us with all necessary information and documents in a timely manner.
9. In certain circumstances, the date of marriage certificate is booked on a Saturday or Sunday as it requires additional fees such as witnesses and other services (Customer is required to pay).
10. The first party enters a contract for the services provided upon receipt of the first payment of the required price, documents, and information.
11. This contract is considered as an express consent (Declaration) to start the service.
12. The general terms and fees are expressly approved by the customer upon receipt of the first party price, information and documents required from the customer.
13. If the AFL in Denmark requests more documents, the customer is obliged to send the required documents and within the specified time exclusively to the e-mail hazem007@msn.com.

If the required documents or information are not submitted within the specified time limit, the customer forfeits any refund and is obligated to pay the full contract amount.

14. The customer declares to provide all correct information, as the first party is not responsible for the incorrect information that the customer provided or sent, and in case of an error in the information, this may adversely affect the marriage certificate issued by the AFL and thus the customer is obliged to pay the full contract amount.
